Dear Dr. Cavicchi:

As suggested to me by Ms Phillippa Loengard , I am contacting you to see if you are interested in receiving my large collection of legal briefs, exhibits, and other material that was created in my 12 year long suit against the National Geographic Society.

The actual suit consisted of four different counts. We prevailed on the first 3 but lost on the forth one. Out of respect to the Society and my strong feeling about the rule of law, I offer no additional comments on this important copyright issue.

If your intellectual property library would like to receive all of the material that I have that is in the public record, please let me know.

We I am talking about concerns around three to five, 35 - 40 pound cartons of printed material. I would ask that my copyrights would be respected and that the library provide some kind of reimbursement for for my out of pocket shipping expenses.

If you are interested in such a proposal, please let me know as soon as possible, by fax. My wife tells me that she wants her kitchen back under her control.

Sincerely yours,

Jerry Greenberg
