PIERCE LAW PRESENTS PANEL ON CURRENT EVENTS AND ISSUES FACING THE INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY LAW PROFESSION

CONCORD, NH – The Student Intellectual Property Law Association of Franklin Pierce Law Center will present a panel discussion on current events and issues facing the intellectual property law profession on Saturday, September 24 beginning at 12 noon in the Rich Room at Pierce Law, Two White St. The public is welcome to attend.

Entitled, "Highlights of Careers in Intellectual Property: A Focus on Current Events and Issues Facing the Profession," the program will feature representatives of the American Intellectual Property Law Association. They include moderator Barbara Fiacco of Foley Hoag, LLP, Mary Eliseeva of Houston Eliseeva, LLP, Pierce Law Professor Mary S. Wong, Philip Johnson of Johnson & Johnson, and DeAnn Smith of Foley Hoag, LLP.

The program is made possible with the generous support of Foley Hoag, LLP and Woodcock Wasburn. For additional information, please contact: Yandie Alvin Fashu-Kanu at afashu-kanu@piercelaw.edu.
